

YORKSHIRE AND THE HUMBER: CRIME, FRAUD AND LICENSING

The 'superb team of lawyers' making up Cohen Cramer's fraud practice 'goes the extra mile for their clients' and are considered an 'obvious choice for quality representation'.

It has experience defending clients in a full spectrum of financial crimes and fraud cases, including missing trader allegations, tax fraud, money laundering and care home frauds.

The crime, fraud and regulatory practice is headed by John Goodwin, a 'master in the field of fraud' who is praised for his 'high-calibre legal knowledge and very impressive client care'. Goodwin handles the full spectrum of fraud work, ranging from property-related matters to people trafficking.
